AboveTopSecret.com is the Internet's largest and most popular discussion board community dedicated to the intelligent exchange of ideas and debate on a wide range of "alternative topics" such as conspiracies, UFO's, paranormal, secret societies, political scandals, new world order, terrorism, and dozens of related topics with an impressive demographic mix of members.

With more than 140,000 members generating over 5 million posts of substance that cover more than 400,000 topics in 157 different discussion forums, you could say "the truth is in here."

The simple yet effective motto of our membership is "deny ignorance", which signifies an effort to apply the principals of critical thought and peer review to the provocative topics covered within.

The Motto: "Deny Ignorance"

More than a slogan and deeper than a mission statement, our members have embraced the motto of "Deny Ignorance" as our reason for being, demanding everyone who posts to aspire to a higher standard of participation. These simple two words have galvanized a broad membership base that spans the spectrum from highly speculative conspiracy writers to staunch skeptics. The result is a unique collaboration of diverse individuals rallying under this simple statement to learn from each other, discover new truths, and imagine new ideas that expand minds.

This motto has life. It has purpose. It demands ATS members to think.

It is a state of mind.

It is a sense of purpose.

It is a statement against the paradigm.

It is a rage against the mindless status-quo.

The idea of "deny ignorance" isn't a goal that ATS hopes to accomplish. Instead, it's a challenge. A call to all those who come here to aspire to a higher state of awareness through informed discussion and debate.

Deny ignorance is what we do.

It's how we think. It's how we talk. It's how we listen.

Ignorance is the social disease of history that has clouded our minds and dulled our brains.

Is the evil that men do, the reason history repeats, and the cause of intolerance.

We deny it. it's not welcome here. Within these boundaries, it has no strength.

Here, ignorance is denied.

Too many co-incidences

Created by: Agit8dChop on April 1, flags: 98, replies: 112

People often ask for proof on ATS, which is fair enough. But I find people to willing to ignore the reality, simply because proof doesn't exist.

"Please prove to me, that all that is happening is the agenda? "

They ask.

They will accept nothing but video footage or signed presidential documents which state:

"We shall trick the public, we shall lie about war, and we shall make money from their blood"

But be honest, could such a document or video exist? No matter what the reality? When you break a law, especially one that could have you executed, you don't exactly film the proof the prosecution would need, would you?

In-fact, you go out of your way to ensure that no 'solid' evidence exists. Whispers, codes, direct one to one dialogue; these are all things which are able to be denied. After all, it all comes to down to your word, against his, and when they are in power, who do you think will have the final say?

For all his stupidity, George Bush isn't a complete Muppet, and Dick Cheney is a very successful business man.

(visit the thread to view linked images)

(visit the thread to view linked images)

So, you have to look to the co-incidences of the situation.

How many co-incidental events have to occur, which all benefit 'one' party, until people turn around and go, "Ok, something's not quite right here! "

Well, I am going to endeavour to create a list of co-incidences from the year 1999, up until April 1st, 2007. I'm going to look at who's benefited the most from these co-incidences, and who has had the power to ensure these co-incidences are never investigated.

Contents:

- 1.
2. The Election
3. The Desires of the president to be
4. The Tragedy

5. The Iraqi Threat
6. The Result
7. Conclusion

Now, we've all heard of elections that weren't quiet right. Zimbabwe, Russia, Ukraine.. But who would of thought so many questions surround the United States elections?

It has been found that during the election process, at the crucial time, mysterious happenings occurred in the Florida votes. Unusually high numbers were recorded at the precise moment of declaration, and then those figures happened to vanish after. Now if anyone knows computers, you know how easily they can be manipulated.

And when you fail to win convincingly through direct number tampering, well you go to plan B, murky the waters around the political aspects.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Above is a list of laws broken, by the republicans in regards to Florida voting.

Here's one, I hand picked to kick things off:

Public Records Law (Palm Beach)

Destruction of computer records of 2000 Presidential vote "

Have a read, Some of them are pretty specific.

Also,

*(links removed, visit the thread for external references)"*DELAND, Fla., Nov. 11 - Something very strange happened on election night to Deborah Tannenbaum, a Democratic Party official in Volusia County. At 10 p.m., she called the county elections department and learned that Al Gore was leading George W. Bush 83,000 votes to 62,000. But when she checked the county's Web site for an update half an hour later, she found a startling development: Gore's count had dropped by 16,000 votes, while an obscure Socialist candidate had picked up 10,000--all because of a single precinct with only 600 voters."

- Washington Post Sunday , November 12, 2000 ; Page A22 "

Is It just a co-incidence, this major flaw happened to DEDUCT votes from Gore, and GIVE votes to bush?

This one issue alone, should of rang some major bells, and caused extreme investigations. Instead, what happened?

I revert to the abovePublic Records Law (Palm Beach)

Destruction of computer records of 2000 Presidential vote "

(visit the thread to view linked images)

But, im willing to look at it from both sides.

Both these case were flukes, rare anomalies that occurred, and for the luck of the draw, just happened to benefit GW Bush in winning the presidency.

And the following well, its not really even worth worrying about:

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"ChoicePoint of Atlanta, was paid $4.3 million for its work, replacing a firm that charged $5,700 per year for the same service" "

Why would you pay someone 4.3million to do a job, someone could of done for $5700?

What was the end result of this mass overpayment?

"Thousands of eligible voters were disallowed the right to vote in predominantly democratic regions."

Obviously, this wasn't a normal, run of the mill election campaign down in Florida.

We'll just over look this co-incidence. And turn to the next chapter

Jerry Caufield :Worked on Bush's Campaign trail during 2000/2001

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"We'd be on the campaign plane talking about domestic issues, and he'd change the subject and start rattling on about what a great evil Saddam Hussein was, and how if he won the election, he'd finish what his father failed to do.""

Mickey Herskowitz: Was hired as GW's auto-biographer in 1999/2000

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"He was thinking about invading Iraq in 1999," said author and journalist Mickey Herskowitz. "It was on his mind. He said to me: 'One of the keys to being seen as a great leader is to be seen as a commander-in-chief.' And he said, 'My father had all this political capital built up when he drove the Iraqis out of Kuwait and he wasted it.' He said, 'If I have a chance to invade....if I had that much capital, I'm not going to waste it. I'm going to get everything passed that I want to get passed and I'm going to have a successful presidency"

John O'neil: Us treasury secretary

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"From the very beginning, there was a conviction that Saddam Hussein was a bad person and that he needed to go," O'Neill told CBS, according to excerpts released Saturday by the network. "For me, the notion of pre-emption, that the U.S. has the unilateral right to do whatever we decide to do, is a really huge leap.

Suskind said O'Neill and other White House insiders gave him documents showing that in early 2001 the administration was already considering the use of force to oust Saddam, as well as planning for the aftermath."

There are memos," Suskind told the network. "One of them marked 'secret' says 'Plan for Post-Saddam Iraq."

So, Is it a co-incidence, that GW and the administration happened to make so many mistakes, and end up exactly where they wanted to be?

Or again, is this merely a fluke, an anomaly where he just happens to be an extremely lucky person.

Because, from my point of view, GW and Co seem to be in a position to manipulate certain events, which could potentially open the door to something they dearly wanted, Iraq.

But ok, 1 coincidence, im willing to accept.

2 coincidences, im willing to entertain.

What else possibly happened that happen to give him what he wanted, without him involved?

(visit the thread to view linked images)

911 is one of those days, where you can ask any person on this planet, what they were doing, when the towers were hit, and they can remember with extreme detail.

Myself? I was kissing my girlfriend goodbye, when my friend came running through the door:

" dude, dude you gotta check this out "

He was in utter disbelief at what he had just witnessed. And so was I, so were 99.9% of the population.

But, who were those .1% who looked at it and said

" About damn time "

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

North Carolina Democratic Sen. John Edwards said on ABC's "Good Morning America" there were three "enormous red flags" that should have sent alarm bells ringing."

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

National Security Advisor Condoleezza Rice was warned of a possible attack on July 10, 2001 by then-CIA Director George Tenet.

Rice has denied that such a meeting took place, citing the 911 Commission Report, which never mentioned any such meeting.

In a remarkable turn of events, however, records of the meeting between Commission members and Tenet counter that claim – as does a State Department log book – and support Woodward's assertions about the warnings that Rice and Ashcroft had received from the CIA. As reported by the San Francisco Chronicle "

- June 30, 2001 Senior Executive Intelligence Briefing (SEIB) entitled "bin Laden Threats Are Real"

- June 30, 2001 Senior Executive Intelligence Briefing (SEIB) entitled "bin Laden Threats Are Real"

- The threat of President Bush's assassination at the G-8 Summit by al Qaeda in July of 2001 – using aircraft to dive bomb the summit building

- July 2001 Phoenix memo, which told of potential terrorists taking flight lessons

- 52 FAA warnings – five of which mentioned al Qaeda's training for hijacking

- August 6, 2001 Presidential Daily Brief entitled "bin Laden Determined to Strike in US"

- National Intelligence Estimate (NIE) entitled "Islamist Extremists Learn to Fly"
- Intelligence agency heads describing themselves with their "hair on fire" to characterize the imminent nature of the threats they were intercepting from Al Qaeda and their sense of urgency in relating them to the Bush Administration
- The arrest of Zacharias Moussaoui in August of 2001
- FBI Agent Harry Samit's 70 unsuccessful attempts to get a FISA Warrant to examine Moussaoui's belongings

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"ALEXANDRIA, Virginia (CNN) -- At Zacarias Moussaoui's sentencing trial, an FBI agent testified Tuesday about al Qaeda's training manual, what the FBI knew prior to 9/11 about al Qaeda operatives' lessons at U.S. flight schools, and missed opportunities to learn more."

So,

Is it a co-incidence that we happened to 'miss' all this vital intelligence, which led to a devastating event, which manipulated the public into following the president on the vitally important war in Iraq?

Which just happens to be the very country GW wanted to invade before any of these co-incidences ever happened?

I mean, its not that he wanted to go into Iraq was it, it was out of necessity from September 11.. and its just a coincidence he was quoted as saying BEFORE this happened, that Iraq was in his sites.

Its gotta be a co-incidence.

So far, im yet to see anything that warrants an investigation, do you?

The election, the agenda before hand, and 911.

So, this all happened, by chance, and we believed, honestly, that Iraq was the big bad enemy of the west, and it was essential to take him out above all else, so what did we have to justify our claims that Iraq was worthy of blood being spilt, economies being weakened and nations being terrorized?

Iraq, will go down as one of the worst blunders in American foreign policy.

Even more so than Vietnam, who woulda thought in the 90's that would be possible?

This is a topic that, honestly, you just don't know where to begin.

The absolute mountain of evidence out there, the absolute mountain of counter-evidence, allegations, fraud so on and so on.. I think its perfect to start from the beginning, with a few sentences which, in hindsight were the only honest assessments of Iraq's weapons programmes.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"In Cairo, on February 24 2001, Powell said: "He (Saddam Hussein) has not developed any significant capability with respect to weapons of mass destruction. He is unable to project conventional power against his neighbours."

"On May 15 2001, Powell went further and said that Saddam Hussein had not been able to "build his military back up or to develop weapons of mass destruction" for "the last 10 years". America, he said, had been successful in keeping him "in a box".

"Condoleezza Rice also described a weak, divided and militarily defenceless Iraq. "Saddam does not control the northern part of the country," she said. "We are able to keep his arms from him. His military forces have not been rebuilt." "

Even Tony Blair, himself, just prior to the invasion:

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"TONY BLAIR privately conceded two weeks before the Iraq war that Saddam Hussein did not have any usable weapons of mass destruction, Robin Cook, the former foreign secretary, reveals today. "

So how did we make so many mistakes?

What is it exactly that we said, what did we accuse Saddam of:

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Dick Cheney: Simply stated, there is no doubt that Saddam Hussein now has weapons of mass destruction.

George W. Bush: Right now, Iraq is expanding and improving facilities that were used for the production of biological weapons.

Ari Fleischer: If he declares he has none, then we will know that Saddam Hussein is once again misleading the world.

George W. Bush: We know that Saddam Hussein is determined to keep his weapons of mass destruction, is determined to make more.

George W. Bush: We have sources that tell us that Saddam Hussein recently authorized Iraqi field commanders to use chemical weapons -- the very weapons the dictator tells us he does not have.

Ari Fleisher: Well, there is no question that we have evidence and information that Iraq has weapons of mass destruction, biological and chemical particularly . . . all this will be made clear in the course of the operation, for whatever duration it takes.

Ok, well there's a HELL of a lot of direct quotes, of just what the administration was telling us they knew.

After all, and im quoting here

"Simply stated, there is no doubt"

"we have evidence and information that Iraq has weapons of mass destruction"

No wonder the public believed him, who honestly would think the government would lie on such a tremendous level? especially when the sovereignty of another country was at stake?

And just for your own interest,

Here's a scanned copy of the Niger documents, which we were 'unaware' of being fraudulent.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

How did we make so many mistakes? and end up in Iraq wrongfully?

I mean clearly, being this is all a co-incidence, GW and Co never, ever used faulty intelligence and manipulated documents to garner support for the war in Iraq they had wanted since before 2000. This is all clearly, another coincidence.

And the fact that our German and French counter parts even told us so:

"Doubt grew exponentially as France and Germany, with whom we have extensive intelligence sharing arrangements, took strong issue with your administration's claims about Iraq. Those two major allies and others have concluded that the evidence that Iraq is continuing to pursue new weapons of mass destruction is far from conclusive and that it falls far short of justification for starting a war."

And when our officials were quizzed to cough up some evidence:

"When NATO ambassadors asked Wolfowitz last month about the evidence against Iraq, he likened it to pornography: "I can't define it, but I will know it when I see it." He did little to rehabilitate himself as super analyst last Thursday with his long, unpersuasive speech in New York."

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

But, do you want to know the most unbelievable part? The part that is meant to be, in no way a co-incidence?

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Interesting little company there, but after reading the above link let me get this straight.

Dick Cheney's Daughter is a top official in the above government branch.

Paul Wolfowitz's Saudi Girlfriend is also now a TOP OFFICIAL for the government branch.

What's the HISTORY behind this offices dealings?

The Office of Special Plans (OSP), which worked alongside the Near East and South Asia (NESA) bureau in Feith's domain, was originally created by Defence Secretary Donald Rumsfeld and Deputy Secretary Paul Wolfowitz to review raw information collected by the official U.S. intelligence agencies for connections between Iraqi President Saddam Hussein and al-Qaeda.

Surely, this is just a mere coincidence. They honestly believed all the evidence that said Iraq had WMD's. They cant show us this evidence, and its their families and friends in charge of creating this evidence, but that doesn't matter. Because there belief in the evidence had absolutely nothing to do, with GW's statement from 1999, that he wanted to enter Iraq if he was President.

Of course, once again, this is all happening by chance. And up to date, there's absolutely no reason here, to be doubting GW, or questioning anything that has occurred to date.

Its all, very co-incidental.

The big lingering question about Iraq, that has yet to be answered, is

" where's all this evidence "

We were so sure, we had concrete evidence that left us with NO DOUBT as to Saddams WMD capabilities.

So, what possible evidence could we of had, to suggest his WMD strength, when it turned out he didn't have one, single weapon of mass destruction.

But, as always, we'll just over look that question.

Ok, So, who benefits the most from this colossal mistake?

The Iraqi's? Terrorists? America?

Well for starters, there's the vice president.

(visit the thread to view linked images)

According to financial disclosure forms, he was paid from Halliburton:

$205,298 in 2001

$162,392 in 2002

$178,437 in 2003

$194,852 in 2004

And in 2005 his stock was estimated at $8,000,000.00

Pretty good for someone with no financial tie

It again, just happens to be a coincidence, he's the VP, who pushed for war.

His making a direct profit from the conflict is in no way, considered war profiteering.

This has been detailed

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Then, theres the Terrorists

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

"If Osama believed in Christmas, this is what he'd want under his Christmas tree," one senior intelligence official told me. Another counterterrorism official suggests that Iraq might begin to resemble "Afghanistan 1996," a reference to the year that bin Laden seized on Afghanistan, a chaotic failed state, as his new base of operations."

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

" The Iraq conflict, which began in March 2003, made "America arguably less safe now than it was on September 11, 2001," Batiste, who commanded the 1st Infantry Division in Iraq in 2004-2005, told a hearing on the war called by U.S. Senate Democrats.

"If we had seriously laid out and considered the full range of requirements for the war in Iraq, we would likely have taken a different course of action that would have maintained a clear focus on our main effort in Afghanistan, not fueled Islamic fundamentalism across the globe, and not created more enemies than there were insurgents," Batiste said."

So, what is the trade off here?

The West here becomes less secure, and more hated?

While GW gets his Iraqi wish, and VP makes millions.

Does anyone look at this:

(visit the thread to view linked images)

Then look at this:

(visit the thread to view linked images)

And feel nothing but disgust for the leaders?

Do you really declare:Its a good thing we did what we did, Id hate to think of the world we'd be in now, if we had of engaged in Dialogue "

Was this really all just blind luck?

Just a long series of coincidences, that no one predicted or wanted, that went terribly wrong somewhere?

I certainly don't believe The Administration wanted things to get this out of hand,

Well, im actually certain of it:

Rummsfield: The way might take weeks, months, probably not years!

The truth is, wether they planned this or not, they have lost complete control.

Everyone warned us of this, but no one listened.

Well, if anyone's still here by this time. Thankyou. This thread took a long time, and a lot of work.

There's thousands, upon thousands of different points and links I could of thrown into this, and that other people probably feel deserves more time than others, there probably right.

In the end, we have lost a lot of good men and women (soldiers).

A nation has lost hundreds of thousands of good citizens (Iraq)

And a once great and powerful nation has lost all the worlds respect (USA)

A lot is going to happen before this mess sorts its self out, A lot of people are going to pay the maximum price.

But If I were a soldier in Iraq, On the battlefield there's only one thing id want, if I were to die.

and thats to die, knowing what led me to my death, instead of who fooled me to my death.

If you still believe, everything to date happened by coincidence, then you my friend must of experienced some truly unbelievable series of events in your life.

Because all I see,

Is that from day -1 GWBush & Co wanted Iraq.

And every event up until today has led him there, and them some.

The problem is, they under-estimated the Iraqi's to a massive respect, and have now devastated a country, created further Anti-US sentiment and ultimately changed the entire tide of the planet toward chaos, rather than peace.

Was all this chaos, REALLY about one man?

(visit the thread to view linked images)

If I am to die in the war that is approaching, at least I can face my maker and tell him, I didn't die a fool. I died defending the truth. I died fighting the US Government, and everything it stands for today.

Ultimately, Clearly the US Administration has undertaken actions to manipulate the public, con the world and dupe the people into following them into Iraq, a quest their leaders desired from before they were in Office.

They allowed 911 to occur, they used your pain to trick you, then they used your soldiers, to make money, to make a corporate piggy bank on another countries turf, at the cost of their blood, your blood and your future.

They deserve to be tried for treason, and convicted for Crimes against Humanity, Crimes against the American people and for 600,000 + counts of first degree murder.

Possible first earth-like planet "super- Earth" found outside our So-lar Sys-tem

Created by: rai76 on April 24, flags: 96, replies: 200

In a find-ing that if con-firmed could stand as a land-mark in history, as-tro-no-mers have re-ported dis-co-v-er-ing the most Earth-like plan-et out-side our So-lar Sys-tem to date: a world that may have liq-uid oceans and thus life.

Swiss, French and Por-tu-guese sci-en-tists found the body, es-ti-mated as 50 per-cent wid-er than our Earth, or-bit-ing a so-called red dwarf star rel-a-tively close to Earth. The star is thought to har-bor two oth-er plan-ets al-so.

Artist's con-cept of a red dwarf, a dim star that burns slow-ly and very long. (Cour-te-sy NASA)

The new-found exo-pla-n-et—as as-tro-no-mers call plan-ets around stars oth-er than the Sun—would be the small-est such body ev-er re-ported.

None-the-less, the object is es-ti-mat-ed to weigh as much as five Earths, part-ly thanks to its great-er width. For the same rea-son, it would have more than twice Earth's sur-face ar-ea. His-tor-i-cally, only large exo-pla-n-ets lend them-selves to hu-man de-tect-ion, though that is chang-ing.

Eventually astronomers will rack up discoveries of dozens, maybe even hundreds of planets considered habitable, the astronomers said. But this one - simply called "c" by its discoverers when they talk among themselves - will go down in cosmic history as No. 1.

The Growing White House Email Conspiracy

Created by: SkepticOverlord on April 13, flags: 71, replies: 149

We have a bona fide conspiracy of potentially far-reaching proportions happening in the White House right now, and because of sensationalist coverage of more "juicy" news items, seems to be passing by largely unnoticed by the average person.

Two items that are strong evidence of a conspiracy to shelter communications related to the back-room business of the running the White House.

1) External Email Systems: Several White House staffers, some of which report directly to the president, used unofficial email systems and non-governmental computers to exchange official policy and planning emails. This appears to have gone on since the administration came into office.

2) Official White House Emails Were Deleted: The private systems used by the White House staffers were designed to automatically delete old emails every 30 days. This is in contradiction to federal law that requires all official communications by White House staff to be securely retained.

The headlines related to this event are nothing short of breath-taking...

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

In the congressional investigation of the White House's role in the firing of several federal prosecutors last year, the Justice Department has turned over reams of emails and memos to Congress.

But there may be many more missing emails, it turns out, because many people within the White House have been exchanging emails on a Republican National Committee account using private laptop computers provided by the party for nearly two dozen employees of the president.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

In a startling new revelation, CREW has also learned through two confidential sources that the Executive Office of the President (EOP) has lost over five million emails generated between March 2003 and October 2005. The White House counsel's office was advised of these problems in 2005 and CREW has been told that the White House was given a plan of action to recover these emails, but to date nothing has been done to rectify this significant loss of records.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

The Associated Press President Bush's aides are lying about White House e-mails sent on a Republican account that might have been lost, Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy suggested

Thursday, vowing to subpoena those documents if the administration fails to cough them up.

"They say they have not been preserved. I don't believe that!" Leahy shouted from the Senate floor.

"You can't erase e-mails, not today. They've gone through too many servers," said Leahy, D-Vt. "Those e-mails are there, they just don't want to produce them. We'll subpoena them if necessary."

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

A lawyer for the Republican National Committee told congressional staff members Thursday that the RNC is missing at least four years' worth of e-mail from White House senior adviser Karl Rove that is being sought as part of investigations into the Bush administration, according to the chairman of the House Oversight and Government Reform Committee.

The disclosures came as White House counsel Fred Fielding rejected demands for a compromise on providing testimony and records to Congress related to federal prosecutors' firings. In a letter to the heads of the House and Senate Judiciary committees, Fielding said the White House is standing firm with its "unified offer," which would include providing a limited set of documents. The White House has proposed allowing Rove and other aides to be interviewed privately, without a transcript and not under oath.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

The Associated Press But White House spokesman Scott Stanzel acknowledged that 22 White House aides have e-mail accounts sponsored by the RNC and that e-mails they sent may have been lost.

Stanzel said the White House was trying to recover the e-mails and could not rule out that some may have involved the firings. The administration also is drafting new guidelines for aides on how to comply with the law.

Leahy was not buying that.

"E-mails don't get lost," Leahy insisted. "These are just e-mails they don't want to bring forward."

Beyond the very serious issues of using unofficial email servers for government business, and deleting those emails, is the often unspoken and potentially much more serious issue, one of national security. Emails that likely contained sensitive information about the operation of the White House, information about the office of the president, and a myriad of related operational and/or day-to-day business items have been available to individuals outside the normal security clearance circles of government operations.

Clearly, there was an anticipation that these staffers would engage in exchanges that must not be discovered. The use of private computers and email systems indicates a premeditated intent to facilitate a communications method that could "disappear" if needed.

Publicly held corporations face serious legal repercussions if they do not retain company email. What "corporation" is (supposed to be) more publicly held than the U.S. Government?

This is interesting, though I have to say the Pilot Ray Bowyer doesn't look at all credible to me...

What do you guys think?

"Pilots and aircraft passengers have confirmed sightings of two large Unidentified Flying Objects off the coast of Guernsey.

The mysterious shapes were spotted earlier in the week and are described as long objects that measured up to a mile wide.

Radar screens picked up some activity in the area and pilot witnesses are now preparing reports for the relevant authorities. Aurigny Pilot Ray Bowyer (pictured) is a professional pilot who has been flying for 20 years. He said: "In my years of experience I've never seen anything like this and frankly I'd be perfectly happy not to ever again. It's a pretty chilling thing and from my first sighting of it - it appeared to be fairly small but it must have been fairly huge." BTW I spotted 2 F15's on a low fly over last night...

Isn't it illegal for them to fly over populated areas after 10pm??

Edit for Update

This from BBC News...

"A commercial airline pilot has reported seeing two unidentified flying objects in the sky near Guernsey.

The bright yellow flat disc shapes, estimated to be twice the size of a Boeing 737, were spotted on Monday, 12 to 15 miles north east of the island.

Captain Ray Bowyer was about to fly an Aurigny plane from Alderney to Southampton when he saw the objects through binoculars.

Mr Bowyer said he was "pretty shook-up" by the sighting.

"This is not something you see every day of the week - it was pretty scary," he said.

At first he thought it was the sun reflecting from greenhouses in Guernsey. He said the objects were bright like the sun, but did not hurt his eyes when he looked at them.

The stationary objects were also observed by other aircraft and the passengers on the plane.

Vatican Official Declares Extraterrestrial Contact Is Real

Created by: Shadoww on April 20, flags: 69, replies: 461
Monsignor Corrado Balducci, a theologian member of the Vatican Curia (governing body), and an insider close to the Pope, has gone on Italian national television five times, including recent months, to proclaim that extraterrestrial contact is a real phenomenon. Balducci provided an analysis of extraterrestrials that he feels is consistent with the Catholic Church's understanding of theology. Monsignor Balducci emphasizes that extraterrestrial encounters "are NOT demonic, they are NOT due to psychological impairment, they are NOT a case of entity attachment, but these encounters deserve to be studied carefully." Since Monsignor Balducci is a demonology expert and consultant to the Vatican, and since the Catholic Church has historically demonized many new phenomena that were poorly understood, his stating that the Church does not censure these encounters is all the more remarkable.

This guys story and views seems to tie in nicely with the disclosure project..

The Catholic church is modernising its doctrine to be able to deal with world realization of Extraterrestrials. Usually the Church would of kept this sort of thing hidden, but does this prove that a worldwide disclosure on Aliens and U.F.O.s is not now a possibility but a reality?

Here is an enhanced image of the U.F.O. caught on camera above the Vatican last year.

(visit the thread to view linked images)

"The color of the object is consistent with UFO colors as the UFO craft transition in energy from red to amber as they undergo power shifts. Rome, unlike New York and other brightly illuminated cities, has little light that could be reflected so brightly from such an apparently high flying object. The equalized enlargement (the lower one) shows the body of the craft as a black silhouette"

Are Cell Phones Wiping Out Our Bees?!

Created by: greatlakes on April 15, flags: 42, replies: 83

This headline is from the UKs The Independent headline concerning the disappearance of bees lately. Numerous threads here on ATS about the mystery of the bee population decline.

CAN THIS BE PART OF THE CAUSE, OR THE MAIN CAUSE FOR THE DECLINE?

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Strange reductions of the bee population, quote from article...

Are mobile phones wiping out our bees?

Scientists claim radiation from handsets are to blame for mysterious 'colony collapse' of bees

By Geoffrey Lean and Harriet Shawcross

Published: 15 April 2007

It seems like the plot of a particularly far-fetched horror film. But some scientists suggest that our love of the mobile phone could cause massive food shortages, as the world's harvests fail.

They are putting forward the theory that radiation given off by mobile phones and other hi-tech gadgets is a possible answer to one of the more bizarre mysteries ever to happen in the natural world - the abrupt disappearance of the bees that pollinate crops. Late last week, some bee-keepers claimed that the phenomenon - which started in the US, then spread to continental Europe - was beginning to hit Britain as well.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

And this part is particularly alarming...!

Colony Collapse Disorder (CCD) occurs when a hive's inhabitants suddenly disappear, leaving only queens, eggs and a few immature workers, like so many apian Mary Celestes. The vanished bees are never found, but thought to die singly far from home. The parasites, wildlife and other bees that normally raid the honey and pollen left behind when a colony dies, refuse to go anywhere near the abandoned hives.

The alarm was first sounded last autumn, but has now hit half of all American states. The West Coast is thought to have lost 60 per cent of its commercial bee population, with 70 per cent missing on the East Coast.

"Quantum Physics Says Goodbye To Reality

by Jon Cartwright

20 April 2007

Some physicists are uncomfortable with the idea that all individual quantum events are innately random. This is why many have proposed more complete theories, which suggest that events are at least partially governed by extra "hidden variables".

I think this is revolutionary. Quantum physics is not only changing the consciousness of man, it is leading us to a view of ourselves that the mystics of old have told us for eons.

I celebrate this.

UFO: Antigravity or Coandă Effect man made saucers or aircrafts?

Created by: brotherthebig on April 3, flags: 31, replies: 225 [post #1/5]

Hi, :cool:

I was searching for information about the firsts jet planes and airplanes of unconventional forms, I used mainly ATS, Google, You Tube and Wikipedia, and I started to post where in ATS what I was finding in the respective forums, because the information is immense and in different fields, some subjects had already been posted by other ATS members, I tried not to duplicate so I put thread's references where I know them or found them through search.

This thread tries to centralize the information I found, and I welcome some more resources, information and videos on the subject. Could you help, please? :)

I am also trying to understand better the nuclear bombing by USA, and maybe USSR, in the late 50's (only 1958?) over Antarctica, but the information is difficult to find and check.

The information I collected (a little bit long) spreads along the following paragraphs (and posts):

- 1 - Firsts resources and references.

4th Generation MicroNukes Used on WTC1,2 and 7

Dr Bill Deagle a NWO former insider involved in many above government projects has claimed on his nutrimedical show that 4th generation micronukes were employed with Thermate to bring down WTC1 and 2.

He surmises that no amount of Thermate would have created the enormous temperatures of 1500F in the rubble pile as found by rescue workers.

Video of Molten Metal Pools found weeks after the destruction of the building can be watched here :

According to his research the detonation of a 4th Generation Micro-Nuke generates a nano-pulse of heat at approximately 4 million degrees centigrade. This heat pulse was strong enough to turn the support columns to dust, and was able to cause cars to catch on fire at a distance. Not only this but he has stated that his high level NSA contacts have informed him that it was a sub-contract job employing the usage of Russian GRU agents, and Mossad Nuclear Technicians. Apparently they are all part of the high-level cult.

The "Game" Of Our World Wide Current Situation. Explained.

Created by: markjaxson on April 1, flags: 27, replies: 63

This is the reality of what is happening in our current situation.

There are 3 types of human citizens that currently reside on planet earth.

The Sheep.

The Goat.

The Bull.

The Sheep.(Brainwashed citizen,human robot, can come across as very intelligent but dont let it deceive you.)

This person can be described as the average man/woman, who has grown up believing almost everything they have been taught and without questioning anything,these type of people can be found almost anywhere for example, a television presenter,an actor,news reporter,footballer,the barman,your best friend etc .

The sheep can be considered an extreme skeptic who simply cannot accept anything that goes against any mainstream science and will argue and provide evidence dismissing almost any claim and they will do this repeatedly, and that if evidence was provided to show the sheep that they were actually wrong they will resort to denial.

No matter how much evidence or coincidences are provided to this person they simply cannot accept anything other than what they have been programmed to.

Here are some symptoms.

- Has an obsession with "Evidence".
- Extremely skeptical towards any event or idea that simply goes against what they have been taught.
- They have an INTENSE urge to prove you wrong no matter how much information you provide them.
- Doesn't understand what an opinion is and shows this by asking for evidence.
- They truly believe that their government actually care about their well being, want peace for the world and their country and to give us a better life.
- These people are the majority mainly living in built up areas in westernized countries.
- They will believe the media and or mainstream internet sources that are unknowingly owned by those in control.
- They may have lost their ability of creative thought, pattern recognition and have lost the ability to actually think for themselves.
- They might tell you to stop reading obscene stuff...and get a life.
- They are oblivious as to what the world is heading towards.

Here are some tips to avoid getting angry with this person.

- DO NOT ATTEMPT TO PROVE ANYTHING to this person as they have an inbuilt self defense mechanism that is quite intelligent and reacts with fear, they know that any event or idea that is out of the ordinary can be dismissed by mainstream science and or opinions of people in high positions of power, therefore they will search the web for information which dismisses the event or idea without any true thinking of their own.
- Don't stay in conflict with this person as they thrive and feed off your emotional outbursts, they thrive on calling you insane and sometimes will even use a medical label such as "Schizophrenic" but not always limited to that word, they also like to use the word "Paranoid" and "CT's" sometimes, if they use that little imagination they have left they will add them together and call you a "Paranoid Conspiracy Theorist", they enjoy calling people these sort of names as it makes them feel like a normal person.
- Do not under any circumstances engage in any type of keyboard warfare with this person, simply ignore them as they are programmed in a certain way that has taken many generations to develop and is almost fool proof.

The Goat. (Previously brainwashed citizen, has started or has been searching for the truth)

This person was previously a fully brainwashed citizen, an event may have happened in this person's life that has rang an inner alarm and has started questioning or has been questioning his life and the world around him. This person has started or has been using his own intuition and realised that what he has been brought up to believe is not the whole truth and is on a mission to find out the truth. This person can sometimes be in conflict with his or herself.

For example.

They realise that some ideas and events that they previously thought to be true like "The official 9-11 story" " Non Existence of ufos's" etc are actually not the truth and will start adding up all the proof and they become involved in the world famous group called "Crazy Conspiracy Theorist".

Some have a tendency or an urge to try and get definite physical evidence so they can truly believe that there is a conspiracy going on, they will attempt to convince friends or other people on the internet, without these people we wouldn't be where we are now.

This is the hardest part to overcome, fear can make them afraid of what people are going to think of them if they believe in all the conspiracies that they know deep down are true, and they are afraid of being labelled "Paranoid", "Insane" or afraid of delving into the unknown.

Sometimes these people will stay in conflict with themselves and others for many years, they can't decide which direction to go and this can cause the mind to become confused.

The tips for this person is, "trust yourself", you do not need physical evidence for what you already know is the truth, you may never find it and by the time you do the game will already have evolved to the next level, don't let yourself be stranded at this level, you need to work out the bigger picture.

Some goats are specialized also and are helping others bridge so they can evolve.

The goat can also believe in certain conspiracies but will not beyond any circumstances get past this level as it is not yet their time, everyone is unfolding in their own time.

The Bull. (The Paranoid Conspiracy Theorist, schizophrenic, insane etc Alex Jones, Rosie O'Donnell is a good example)

This is the person that has trusted him/herself and has been able to piece all the parts of the puzzle together. They understand mankind's history and present time events all tie in together, they understand what is happening now and know it has been clearly planned for many generations, they do not care if anyone labels them a medical term and realises that any science that we currently know and been led to believe is not a scratch on the surface of what is truly possible and known by the powers that be.

They understand the importance of certain myths, synchronicities, probabilities, why certain events happen,history,politics,co-incidences, make sense somehow.

This person realises that there is something much bigger going on in our world, they 100% believe in ufo's,teleportation,time-travel,psychic warfare etc.

The person usually specializes in a certain area, they understand the bigger picture but they specialize in one of these areas. They are feeling anxious at the moment because they know that bigger things are about to happen.

They have an intense urge or desire to spread the truth to the world and this may at times come across as desperate or angry/crazy, totally illogical to some people, but its actually urgency and passion for our fellow humans to WAKE UP!

There is also a group i would like to tell you about.

The Shepherd (Expert of the human and material world,been around for hundreds of years)

The group that has planned all that is happening and knows how to control "The Sheep" perfectly,they even know how to mis-direct the goats and bulls.

"They" have covered all bases so watch out.

To stay ahead of the game DO NOT waste your time trying to convince "The Sheep".

(The people who still want evidence for almost anything,there is no way to convince these people so be careful wasting your energy,do not debate with them about any current or old news as this is a tactic deployed by "The Group" to keep you from advancing) Just provide all the information and all the links and connections then let everyone decide for themselves.

Stay ahead of the game, if your a goat go and seek out the information towards the bigger picture if your a bull try to provide information for the goat but also try to work out whats next for you.

Provide your information for the masses but do not try to prove anything to The Sheep.

Masonic Rocks?

Created by: 187specialist on April 9, flags: 25, replies: 45

Hello to all,

I just joined this site because I have a few questions concerning the masons in early north america. Let me start from the beginning.

I met my wife in 1997 and her family had some interesting artifacts in their possession when I met her that to this day baffle me. The artifacts in question are several small rocks that were stone but looked like masonic emblems that were obviously a necklacve of some kind. There was the head of john the baptist , an upside down V with a backwards G carved on it, a right angle, a star of david and one or two more that I cant remember right now. Also the rocks appear to have chunks of white stuff in them and the rocks are grey and for their size feel very light almost like lava rock but more solid.

Now I have been into conspiracy theories my whole life I am 33 now and the rocks werent that strange until I heard how the family came to own them. The story goes that in the early 1830's in Dover TN. my wifes family was building their house and were one of the first families in the area to their knowledge. Now the weird part, while clearing a field for farming they uprooted a very large tree and under this tree in the root system they found a stone box. They tried to find a way to open this box but the ended up breaking the box open with a sledgehammer and inside they found the rocks I have described.

The story goes that the tree was over 100 yrs old when they found it so that means that someone was a mason in Dover tn. before the united states was even formed. Of course they thought this was a bad omen (being rednecks) and that nobody wanted these rocks found or they would not have planted a tree where they buried them. Her family has had these rocks over 170 years and to my knowledge they never found out their meaning or use. My wife told me that her mother found a man who specialized in masonic history and she took the rocks to him to be evaluated but when she showed them the rocks they asked her to take the rocks and leave??

Strange I thought but all of this is being told to me I dont know for a fact the origins of these rocks. I have searched for over 5 years for a mason who might know something of old rituals that might have used these but I could find nothing. Does anybody know anything about these NO BS PLEASE. I am at work atm and I am going to take some pics of thes rocks and post them tonight. Please post anything you might think could help identify these.

Is John Lear Spreading Disinfo?

Created by: Xeros on April 28, flags: 25, replies: 696

First off, I'm not saying that Mr Lear is, I'm just raising a question which I feel needs to be asked. No disrespect intended John.

If there was one person who would be flying these "UFOs", if indeed they are US government property, Mr Lear would have probably done so.

It begs the question: "Why all the really bizarre claims or thoughts by John?" Could this be the perfect shill?

Feel free to add your response John, as this is not a personal attack in any way, and I hope you can see the angle that I'm coming from.:up:

Anyway..... What do people think about this possibility?

Now Britain is to release UFO files

Created by: IsaacKoi on April 29, flags: 24, replies: 48

As many of you are aware, France recently made a mass of UFO files available. See the thread I started on this a few weeks ago at the link below:

Now, Dr Dave Clarke has announced that he received a letter from the British Ministry of Defence last month indicating that the MoD has similar plans. See: Dr Dave Clarke has said:

Britain's Ministry of Defence are to publish their secret archive of UFO reports to dispel claims they have been hiding knowledge of alien visitors to the UK. ...

Although the MoD claim no UFO report has ever been judged to be of defence significance, a small number were subjected to detailed investigations by the RAF and DI55. The nature of these investigations, and their findings, have until recently been a closely guarded secret. During the same thirty year period covered by the French UFO project, more than 7,000 UFO reports were collected by DI55 whose precise role and responsibilities the British Government refuse to discuss. Until recently it was feared all 24 of DI55's UFO files could be destroyed as they had been exposed during storage to deadly asbestos dust along with 63,000 other 'sensitive' intelligence files from the Cold War. But at the end of a £3 million publicly-funded project all the contaminated papers have been saved and are scanned onto CD roms.

A decision was taken earlier this year to make the UFO archive a priority for release via the MoD's website which already hosts the papers on the Rendlesham Forest incident and the Condign report. The first electronic scans of the UFO files, which begin in the mid-1970s, will be added to the website later this year. The DI55 archive contains numerous reports by service personnel including RAF and Royal Navy pilots and by civilian aircrew. They also include the material used by the author of the Condign report who analysed more than 3,000 UFO reports collected by the MoD during the ten years 1987-97."

Dr Clarke is a British researcher that teaches journalism at Sheffield Hallam University and folklore at Sheffield University. He recently co-authored a new book called "Flying Saucerers: A social history of Ufology". See:

The Condign Report mentioned by Dr Clarke was released by the MoD during May 2006 and is available online on the MoD website at:

My comments on the Condign Report can be found on the UFO Updates website at the the link below:

"NEW YORK - Although it has already taken nearly four decades to get this far in building the Internet, some university researchers with the federal government's blessing want to scrap all that and start over.

The idea may seem unthinkable, even absurd, but many believe a "clean slate" approach is the only way to truly address security, mobility and other challenges that have cropped up since UCLA professor Leonard Kleinrock helped supervise the first exchange of meaningless test data between two machines on Sept. 2, 1969.

NASA UFO Anomaly Video from International SPACE STATION (ISS)

Created by: greatlakes on April 19, flags: 23, replies: 63

What is this Anomaly?

This video was sent to me recently by a friend who did the original video capture. The video capture is from NASA TV and is of the International Space Station (ISS). Timeframe of footage I believe to be 4-18-07.

I just uploaded this to Youtube for my friend and did not perform the vid capture...

So about the video, the anomaly in question appears starting :47 and is in the lower right corner of the video. Is is bluish whitish in color. I am NOT referring to the part of the ISS module that is visible in the frame, also lower right side.

NOTE: the VIDEO IS DARK FROM 00:00 to about :20. You want to expand the video by going to the youtube link directly to see the small anomaly in the lower right side of the video.

The bluish whitish anomaly appears to be stationary, not moving in relation to the Earth. Note that the ISS is also in a circular orbit, not geosynchronous orbit.

So what is this anomaly, a reflection from the ISS? A camera artifact? A satellite or debris outside the module?

We've all heard percentages of people who believe there was more behind the events of Spetember 11th than what the government is willing to release, but how do these statistics come about?

Does someone call 100 random people on the phone and ask their opinion? Do they stop 100 people on the street? Who knows?

What I'd like to know is how many people on ATS believe there was a conspiracy behind the 9/11 attacks and how many think there is no more to the story than we already know.

I'm going to conduct a poll. I'll continue to edit this entry so everyone can view this page and get the results as I calculate and re-post. The best thing about this poll is that the ballots cannot be faked. Eveyone can view the votes for themselves.

A simple "Yes" for Conspiracy and a "No" for No Conspiracy will suffice. Remeber to flag this thread so that it will make it up to the Threads Homepage and we can get some real numbers up here.

ATS Special: Capitalism Endgame

Email Newsletter Special Feature

April 30, 2007

By ATS Member "polanski"

"The American lifestyle is non-negotiable" Pres. Bush I & II

Are the power elite 'conspiring' to promote their good fortune at the expense of the working class? At first glimpse that statement appears fraught with 'wild eyed conspiracy theory'. There would be many who would say that it would involve too many people and thus highly unlikely. But how many people would have to know? What if those in power benefited from the policies and laws made to favor them, but were not aware that there was a very specific conspiracy to achieve total economic pre-eminence of the governing elite. It would be difficult to prove the existence of such a cabal, they would cover their tracks. They would practice to deceive, prevaricate, bully, lie and use the 'system' to protect and preserve their 'rights.' They would hope to co-opt the middle class by trying to convince them it is in their best interest as well. The evidence would be 'erased', made to disappear and it would indeed be difficult to find any hard proof. But there is a legal precedence in such cases when hard evidence is lacking and that is a preponderance of evidence. When one sees example after example of how the game has been rigged to benefit the few at the expense of the many one must wonder. This edifice that provides and protects the elite certainly did not arise overnight. It has incrementally been built up over the years. Like the formation of a pearl it has slowly been added to and like that pearl it is now ripe to be harvested and worn proudly and legitimately by the best and the brightest.

One layer of this anti-working class edifice is what is called universal default. It allows credit card companies to raise your interest rate if you pay some other loan late. Of course you should be punished if you are late with a payment, but what does being late with a car payment have to do with your credit card? Without ever missing a payment or going over your limit on your credit card your interest rate can be increased to the limit. Clearly you have proved to be a greater risk than expected. You are a scofflaw and should be penalized or so someone thinks. It's not really logic. Logic would dictate that you may have mistakenly missed a payment deadline or perhaps you did not have enough money to pay all your bills that were due. You did, however, pay your credit card bill and yet your rate is going up. This policy targets the blue collar workers and benefits the financial institutions. It defies logic but perhaps there is an underlying coherence. It redistributes money up from those who can least afford it to those who least need it.

Next we have the newly renovated (links removed, visit the thread for external references). They have been revised to make sure that those with rather serious money problems are not let off the hook. The new bankruptcy laws have been designed to make it more difficult for the consumer to get a so called 'fresh' start. In short filing a Chapter 7 bankruptcy allows many people to pay off a portion of their debt and cancel the rest. There are strict rules that apply regarding assets that qualify for liquidation, but the filer normally is not allowed to keep much beyond necessities. It has now been made much more difficult and expensive to declare bankruptcy. Lawyers are being held to a higher standard as well, thus there is less gray area involved in the proceedings. Bottom line is it is more difficult for the little guy to get out from under their debt. It is still relatively easy for Corporations to go bankrupt and eliminate their debt, however. Although there appears to be a pattern here it could still be just a coincidence.

Next let's look at (links removed, visit the thread for external references). As reported in the New York Times the wealthy benefited most from the Bush administration tax cuts. The average tax reduction for a mid range income, $56,200 was $1,180. This is nothing to scoff at but it is very misleading. Those families with incomes in the $1.25 million range received tax cuts of $58,000. In effect the tax cut was regressive those at the middle received a smaller percentage tax break. As stated in the article, "tax cuts reduced rates for people at every level; they offered the biggest benefits by far to people at the top." There seems to be mounting evidence that there is some collusion or conspiracy to enrich the wealthy at the expense of the struggling middle, but clearly more evidence would be needed to prove the case.

There has been much said about the widening gap between the wealthiest Americans and their poorer counterparts. Not too long ago the United States replaced France as the industrial country with the widest income gap and recently that gap has continued to grow. As Janine Jackson says in her article (links removed, visit the thread for external references) "Wages and income for average workers, adjusted for inflation, are down in recent years, -- The Poverty rate is rising, as is the number of people in debt." That this is taking place at the same time that a seeming upsurge in the economy is, is rather vexing. Perhaps the 'trickle down' effect has just not had time to run its course.

A (links removed, visit the thread for external references) gives information about the widening compensation gap between the highest paid CEO's and the average worker. It points out that not only do the best paid employees get paid significantly more but, the percent of their raises is higher as well, thus constantly increasing the pay differential. In fact, the rich do continue to get richer and the middle and poor keep falling farther behind.

"An analysis of securities filings showed that CEO salaries rose 12 percent in 2004 compared with average raises of 3.6 percent for rank-and-file workers, further widening the world's largest gaps between executive and labor pay."

Surely if this is not by design it would be rectified, but it has not been and the CEO's have circled the wagons to protect their right to exorbitant wages.

Another thread to this web of complicity is war, war in general and The War on Terror specifically. War calls on the middle and lower classes to make the biggest sacrifices. The corporate leaders and politicians plan and execute wars and benefit greatly from the sale of war goods and owning stock in those corporations, but the middle and lower classes are called on to make the supreme sacrifice in the name of patriotism. While paying lip service to the soldiers in the field and decorating the 'heroes' who protect the motherland with the other hand they are busy trying to reduce medical benefits, save money on armor plating and failing to maintain hospitals in good condition. The actions of our politicians speak volumes. Be good patriots and don't ask questions. Contracting for armor plating is a prime example. A pentagon report said that as much as 80% of the fatalities to our troops could have been avoided with adequate body armor. Are they thinning the herd? With the high birth rates of minorities and the poor it would indeed take a long war to effectively offset those statistics.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Last summer the government (links removed, visit the thread for external references). This is a benefit derived from collective bargaining and would certainly seem to have the force of law, but the US government allowed United to drop the pension plan. They were let of the hook, would the government be as understanding if it were you or I who had defaulted on a contractual agreement?

The pension was taken over by the (links removed, visit the thread for external references). There are some important considerations when the PBGC takes over a corporation's pension plan. They do not cover health benefits, lump-sum death benefits, or disability benefits claimed after the PBGC takeover. Those are some major concerns and would especially burden those who didn't have the savings or resources to pay for those necessities. It appears that those provisions would place an inordinate burden on the middle class or poorer workers. Is there a well established bias favoring the wealthier over the less well off?

This is by no means a comprehensive list of the numerous authorized slights to the middle/working class. Can this 'agenda' be passed off as a mere coincidence? If a class is systematically favored or legally diminished as the case with the middle and lower classes have been can it just be happenstance? How this has come to be accepted is quite a different topic and not the point of this discourse but it again brings up the systematic use of the legal system. One part of that edifice is deregulation of the media that has significantly narrowed the scope of opinions expressed in the mainstream media. Has the majority been lulled into a false sense of security? Have we gradually been desensitized to the removal of our former rights? Have we somehow accepted the fact that the wealthy should rule and that depending on their benevolence is the proper order? Ladies and gentlemen of the jury is this 'system' that has built up over the years just a random collection of laws, regulations, and customs that just happen to favor the wealthiest at the expense of the rest. Could it just have happened coincidentally over the years? I would submit not. There is a plan. There is a preponderance of evidence that supports the existence of such a plan. There is puppet master(s) and because the wealthy and powerful benefit they are willing to go along with the dismantling of our democratic system without a conscious understanding of who the 'wizard' behind the curtain is or of his (their) ultimate goal. It is not a coincidence!

The Dirty Little Billion Dollar Secret

Created by: NGC2736 on April 26, flags: 20, replies: 62

It's a dirty little secret that's all over America. And it's got a lot of money involved, more even than I put in the tittle. It's costing us $600 dollars per SECOND.(ref 1) And that's just what the Feds are spending. On state and local levels, who knows? And the sad part is that these are 2003 statistics. And we're getting nothing in return!

Did you guess? Yes, it's the war on drugs. Now I'm not a user, nor do I advocate the use of drugs. What I'm concerned with is why there's so little of my tax money left for roads and schools and such. And who is getting rich from this 35 plus year war?

Let's think 1920s. The drug then was alcohol. Because it was illegal, we got the likes of Al Capone and Pretty Boy Floyd. Now we have The Crips and the Bloods. Prohibition only brought out the gangsters then and it's doing/done the same now. Las Vegas was built to launder the mob's money by the likes of Lucky Luciano and now it's the offshore banks, and there's signs that a lot of rich politicians use them.

Making something illegal that people want only does two things, it brings out the crooks and it costs you and me. You can't legislate morality. This is another lost war, but we're still fighting it. How much is it costing in burglaries and muggings? theft and murder? All to pay 'street price', which is marked up 90% just because of this war on drugs.

Now the big question, how many politicians have their hand in the cookie jar?

Are we in Afghanistan to find a terrorist or to protect next years crop? How much drug money is kicked back to corrupt politicians? (The same ones who want the war stepped up so the prices can stay 50 to 100 times higher than it would cost if drugs were sold under the same regulations as liquor.)How many schools and roads and kindergarten lunches are we losing to this fake war?

We can be pretty sure that the very leadership in the highest offices of the land are involved. Think back to a place called Mena, Arkansas. Who was the top dog then? And who may be back in business in 2008? But this isn't a Republican/Democrat question. Doesn't this seem to be more bipartisan than that?

So take a look, and tell me I'm seeing things. It's worth a little thought on your part, after all, it's your money. Do you really want to get scammed for another 35 years?

What's up with Denver Airport??

Created by: FlyersFan on April 8, flags: 19, replies: 64

I'm not sure if this is New World Order or Secret Societies or UFO/Reptilian or whatever. Everything - even paranormal studies due to ghosts - seems to be involved.

A discussion we all had in chat a few days ago lead me to build this thread.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references) – 4.8 Billion to build. 53 Square miles.

Rumors – The NWO and/or Masons made sure the Denver Airport was built and that it was built in a certain way, because they are expecting mass destruction of the Earth by comet impact and this airport is expected to play a roll in that time period.. Also – MJ-12 is involved.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Denver airport houses a massive underground complex. Is this part of ORPHEUS? NASA's rumored underground bunker complexes for 'the specially chosen'??

NOTE – I had a link to a video of the underground complex. When I clicked on the link it said 'protected' and then my computer wouldn't pick up the link and I got kicked off. I can't find that link anymore Mmmmmmm

The occult and secret society symbolism is rampant in the airport. Some say the runways seem to form swastika patterns. I don't see it, but some do.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

These are supposed to be photos of the runways, but I don't think they look quite right.

EXCELLENT VIEWING - (links removed, visit the thread for external references) This youtube has a better picture of the 'nazi symbols' in the runways and everything else.

Then there are the murals and the Masonic symbols. One mural shows the destruction of a city and forest. Another shows a small girl holding a Mayan tablet that predicts the end of the world. The artists who created the designs state that they were told to design them to specific themes and images (*source – Conspiracy Files by Southwell and Twist). The commission of the murals is said to possibly have been made by the wife of the Mayor of Denver, Wilma Webb. It is said that she was part of a semi-secret (if it was fully secret we wouldn't have heard about it) Masonic dedication at the airport and afterwards was appointed to the Department of Labor by President Clinton. "The Great Hall' has the Nazi mystical Black Sun in the floor and there is a Masonic Capstone in airport The Great Hall as well.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Don't' forget, Air Force Space Command (they control the Milstar satellite communications systems which links mobile ground forces, ships, subs, and aircraft) is at Schriever Air Force Base which is rather close to Denver International Airport. This is at a high altitude – resistant to many types of disaster and able to create safe underground buildings. Air Force Space Command operates communications on super-high frequencies and runs the Defense Support Program satellites – part of our early warning system.

Early warning - from war attacks. ... or comets ... or UFOs ... and it's right near the airport. hmmmmm

Most of the locals didn't want the airport built. Clinton administration officials may have used their influence to get the work done. In the book Defrauding America, Rodney Stich claims to have a tape showing a CIA agent paying the mayor of Denver to get the airport built. I wasn't able to find a copy of this tape anywhere. There are numerous books that restate his claim, but none of the books (or internet sites that I saw) show it. Interesting thing about Denver Airport is that the site was originally a Native American Indian burial ground. It is said that the mayor of Denver had to meet with the tribal leaders in order to gain permission and to appease the spirits of the dead who had their bodies moved in order to built the airport. The Teepee tent design of the airport is alleged to have been made in order to appease the spirits of the dead Indians who were buried there.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

Some say the tents are supposed to be 'the Rocky Mountains'. But honestly – they look more like Indian Teepees to me.

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

(links removed, visit the thread for external references) of this site you will find a short discussion about psychics and 'dark energy' from Denver Airport.

So .. when the great earthquake that is prophesied rips America into two – will Denver become the capital of (what is left of) the Western part of the US? Is this part of that prophecy?

Side Note – It is said that Queen Elizabeth II has recently bought property in Colorado but has done so clandestinely using false front business. (* source – Conspiracy Files, by Southwell and Twist). Does this bring in the (alleged) British Royal Family/Reptilian twist?

 BTW – the (links removed, visit the thread for external references) will be in ... (drum roll) DENVER this year! August – for anyone interested.

Other Sources –

Whistle Blower (links removed, visit the thread for external references) (who 'committed suicide' after telling all)

JSC building evacuated after report of man with weapon

02:34 PM CDT on Friday, April 20, 2007

By Michelle Homer / KHOU.com

A building at the Johnson Space Center was evacuated Friday afternoon after a report that a man with a weapon was inside.

"A person with a weapon was in Building 44," confirmed NASA spokesperson Kylie Clem.

NASA security responded and HPD was called.

More than 15 police cars could be seen outside the building from Air 11.

HPD is also sending SWAT.

At least one ambulance was also sent to the scene, but there have been no reports of injuries so far. Building 44 houses the communications and engineering departments. Clem couldn't say for certain how many employees worked in the building. Several workers could be seen standing outside the building.

Pretty sure it hasn't been posted about on ATS yet, only been added up on youtube on the 27th.

I have to say this is perhaps one of the most interesting footage I have ever seen of UFO's.

What seems to be many UFO's flying up in the sky, at daytime. We can rule out the possibility of them being balloons or birds, because of the flight patterns. While one object is clearly stationary, 2 others fly in a perfect line straight across it at very high speeds. There's no way I can see them being balloons or birds... I'll let you judge for yourself.

WASHINGTON (AFP) - US beekeepers have been stung in recent months by the mysterious disappearance of millions of bees threatening honey supplies as well as crops which depend on the insects for pollination.

Bee numbers on parts of the east coast and in Texas have fallen by more than 70 percent, while California has seen colonies drop by 30 to 60 percent."

Proposed ATS paranormal project. Create a Thoughtform

Created by: TheBandit795 on April 18, flags: 18, replies: 110

I've decided that I'm going to attempt to create a thoughtform again soon. But with much more effort than I did before, and I keep it alive instead of letting it die (by not bothering with it) like I did with the earlier ones.

Perhaps with your help I can do it much easier. There are members here who can draw very good, so that may also be of some help.

As for what it will do: I'm thinking of some possibilities (but have a preference for the first one at the moment). One is to help enhance concentration and focus to an extreme high level (being in the zone), to give you a state of being the opposite of of having attention deficit disorder.

Another possibility is one to heal physical and mental diseases.

Another possibility is one to help increase physical wealth and greatly enhance financial success in any financial venture taken.

So the model could be a drawing with tools to do his job; it can be humanoid, animal-like or symbol-like.

It could hopefully be an extremely powerful egregore if members agree to help me create it.

Btw... We can also strengthen the existing one on ATS to be more powerful in making the message happen that it was created to be a model for. (Guess which I mean?)

U.S. Erects Baghdad Wall to Keep Sects Apart

"BAGHDAD, April 20 — American military commanders in Baghdad are trying a radical new strategy to quell the widening sectarian violence by building a 12-foot-high, three-mile-long wall separating a historic Sunni enclave from Shiite neighborhoods.

Soldiers in the Adhamiya district of northern Baghdad, a Sunni Arab stronghold, began construction of the wall last week and expect to finish it within a month. Iraqi Army soldiers would then control movement through a few checkpoints. The wall has already drawn intense criticism from residents of the neighborhood, who say that it will increase sectarian tensions and that it is part of a plan by the Shiite-led Iraqi government to box in the minority Sunnis.

A doctor in Adhamiya, Abu Hassan, said the wall would transform the residents into caged animals.

SPECIAL: The Truth About America's Domestic Disarmament Policy

Created by: Justin Oldham on April 24, flags: 17, replies: 58

Email Newsletter Special Feature,

By Justin Oldham

Since 1994, politicians and bureaucrats within the Federal government have been implementing a clearly defined domestic disarmament policy that is designed to further the long term goal of centralized power. The overall trend in government growth at the Federal level has been a deliberately generated and sustained effort.

Incremental gun control has been implemented as an understated policy since the early 1970's. Public officials at all levels seem to be thinking ahead. their intent seems clear. To achieve total power, they must do more than legislate to their advantage. They need to make sure that the general public can't contested their actions by a successful insurrection or revolt. History shows us that a disarmed population makes for a docile and politically compliant society.

House Resolution 1022 was introduced by Representative Carolyn McCarthy (D-N.Y.) in February of 2007. Titled, "Assault Weapons Ban And Law Enforcement Protection Act of 2007," this revised 1994 law would impose drastic restrictions on sales and ownership of all firearms, regardless of type. This bill and its aggressive language represent a renewed effort on the part of social and political forces that maneuver behind-the-scenes to promote central authority. It's the next step in their domestic disarmament policy.

Points of contention:

a. The specific makes and models prohibited by name under this law has been greatly expanded when compared to list of guns to be banned in the original 1994 law.

b. The revised law expands the definition of what it means for a weapon to be "semi-automatic." the end result seems to be an effort to include makes and models of guns that simple look like they might be military-grade weapons.

c. Under the terms of this law, all sales of large capacity magazines will be forbidden. Please note that the law defines a large capacity magazine as being anything that loads more than five rounds. Private sales of designated assault weapons are also prohibited. Conversion kits will be outlawed.

d. If you own a post 1994 ban firearm, you will not be allowed own a pistol grip or barrel shroud that would cause the weapon to resemble a known military variant.

e. Complicated language buried deep inside the bill authorizes the U.S. Attorney General to be "the decider" of what is and is not a semi-automatic or military-grade firearm. The insinuation is that because all guns have their basis in military design, all guns could fall under the A.G. authority to classify and ban.

In today's uncertain world, Federal officials at all levels stress compliance and conformity in the face of trans-national terrorism. Americans are no longer encouraged to be observant and brave. We're told to be non-confrontational while we wait for official help from sanctioned government agencies. The creeping conspiracy of growing government power attacks us from many different directions. Future Federal firearms policy seems destined to dispute and destroy our second amendment traditions whether we like it or not. The strongest argument put forward by pro-Federalist gun control advocates rests on the assertion that the second amendment is a provisional law, subject to the interpretations of State laws which are in turn subordinate to Federal law. It's that subordination to Federal authority that gun control advocates rely on to push legislation like HR 1022.

Federalism has been alive and well in America since the Constitution was ratified (1789). for more than 230 years, many of our best thinkers have wrestled with the question of State's rights and the implied supremacy of the Federal government which some say can be found in the finer language of the Constitution itself.

Anti-Federalist forces have been fighting a losing battle on all fronts since the end of the Civil War (1861-1865). 21st Century political theorists are in general agreement that organized advocacy for small and efficient government is dead, as a form of national-level political ideology. The mid-term election results of 2006 lend credibility to the notion that Republicanism is no longer a force to be reckoned with.

Recent trends in legislation suggest that the conspirators who have sought to disarm the American people may now operate in the open as legitimate advocates for their point of view. As a political agenda item that makes the leap from plot to program, we should expect that HR 1022 will be the first of many pieces of legislation enacted to finalize the process of population control.

A brief examination of the "gun control time line," which is an online resource provided by the Federal government, will provide the casual researcher with a basis for understanding the scope, scale, and legislative rhythm that has been employed up 'til now. (see, additional news links) McCarthy's "new" assault weapons ban would build on every legal precedent that has come before it. As conspiracies go, this one is about as real as they come.

With anti-Federalist forces in disarray, there are no organized political groups or special interests in existence at this time which could or would offer serious resistance to this long-term policy. As an author, I find myself in slim company when it comes to stating a coherent opposition to this not-so-hidden agenda. Federal officials have a long-standing tradition of retaining political and legislative power. They very seldom if ever give back any of the authority they have taken.

House Resolution 1022 embodies every hostile legal maneuver that has come before it. It signals the start of a new phase in a much larger plan, and its long-term implications are not hard to guess at. This isn't plausible protection. It's premeditated, preemptive, and prescribed as "necessary" for the benefit of a chosen few.

Former CIA Director George Tenet will be the guest on CNN's Larry King Live tonight at 9pm (EST).

This could be our chance to ask a former CIA director about UFOs live on air! They just did a promotion on CNN for the show and they said Larry King will be taking calls from the public tonight.

Keep in mind I called in and asked Bill Maher (political comedian) about his thoughts on UFOs which I still have a VHS tape of. It is possible to get through!

This thread is to inform everyone of the phone number to call. Start calling in around 8:45pm and press redial as fast as you can each time you hear the busy signal until you get through.

Once you get through they will ask for your name, what state you're calling from, and what your question for George Tenet is.

I WILL BE DOING THIS AS WELL TONIGHT!

The toll-free number to call is 1-800-676-2100

Please flag this thread and I look forward to hearing someone from ATS ask George Tenet about UFOs...that is unless it's me! :hey:

FDA plans to reclassify all vitamins, supplements, herbs and juices as FDA-regulated drugs

Created by: annestacey on April 11, flags: 15, replies: 33
Ok people... this is getting VERY serious! This move will eliminate nutritional supplements and natural medicine from the United States, ensuring monopoly profits and control by drug companies and the FDA. The FDA is accepting public comments on the docket until April 30th.
What will happen:
Vegetable juice will be regulated as a drug. Raw juice retreats will be raided or shut down.
Therapeutic tea products, such as green tea, will be outlawed and confiscated.
Therapeutic tea products, such as green tea, will be outlawed and confiscated.
Growing and selling common garden herbs will get you arrested as a drug dealer.
Vitamin store owners will be arrested and prosecuted for "practicing medicine without a license."
Raw sprouts and other anti-cancer foods will be regulated as drugs.
Citizens owning personal inventories of "unapproved drugs" (vitamins and herbs) may have their homes raided at gunpoint and their inventories confiscated by armed law enforcement agents.
A new FDA "guidance" document, published on the FDA's website, reveals plans to reclassify virtually all vitamins, supplements, herbs and even vegetable juices as FDA-regulated drugs. Massage oils and massage rocks will be classified as "medical devices" and require FDA approval. The document is called Docket No. 2006D-0480. Draft Guidance for Industry on Complementary and Alternative Medicine Products and Their Regulation by the Food and Drug Administration.

It is crucial that you take action to post your comments with the FDA right now and write your representatives in Washington to put a stop to this outrageous effort to destroy natural medicine.

I don't know if this has been covered but just in case, NASA has released new high res photos of the Mars Face.

"NASA has released the new ultra high resolution pictures of the "face on Mars." For just a little bit of background, In 1979, scientists studying pictures of the Martian surface noticed that on the Cydonian plain, there stood out, what seemed to plainly be, a giant face staring out into space. Over the years, scientist Richard Hoagland has studied a series of NASA images. Richard and other investigators have postulated that this face is in fact, ancient architecture fallen into ruin. This structure is one square mile in size, and part of a larger complex which appears to be an ancient Martian city, all fallen into ruins."

The BEE smoking gun

Created by: cpdaman on April 22, flags: 15, replies: 126

The Bee's smoking gun

now i don't have all the answers, wether all of this or only parts of this ring true to you, you can deny it or address i dont care, but just ask yourself is this worth researching a little bit more the bee's are dying off rather rapidly and it seems to be a problem focused in the united states that is spreading over to europe and becoming worse it appears there are a few players that fit into this (my biggest fear is that no one realizes until the food supply is in grave danger) electromagnetic radiation in the same frequecny range as the bees (220 ish) appears to be a place to look for the reason bee's may be unable to return to the hive as the communication necessary between bee's returning to the hive becomes disrupted by electromagnetic radiation emf waves are seeming to override the bees (if not the birds as well) communication systems and the emf waves are being sent out from HAARP facilities, cell phone towers (as well as cellphones changing to digital emissions instead of analog with some technologies happenning to pulse at a similiar frequency 220 as the bees) as well as the chemtrails spraying aluminum and barium and coating everything in this toxic conductive metal spray.

the obivous should be that whatever is going on and whatever the indiviual or collective reasons may be for the bee's dying it shows that there is something going on that we can't see that we need to figure out or as einstein said if the bee's would die out mankind would have four years to live now enter monsanto engineered seeds and the the gov't now has the means to more closely control the world's food supply, which will give alot of the dissenters a reason to think twice about NOT accepting the microchip (because they may need it to eat food) couple that with there PR campain to microchip the population (which will be introduced in some manufactured problem , reaction (viola) solution) coupled with the creative marketing of low lifes (get the microchip it will help stop missing children?(not so much)/ it will make your life convenient) probably not even aware of the ways microchips will be used for behavior modification as well. and behavior modification is shrouded in secrecy thankfully the veil is lifting and consciousness is becoming more aware and able to see through the nefarious intentions of the power hungry elite

Why THEY will be revealed soon.

Created by: Vipassana on April 12, flags: 14, replies: 62

Edit: This is an opinion thread and probably belongs in the Skunkworks group.

It is my belief that if the government is hiding the facts of alien visitation and technology, that it will soon be revealed. This isn't a theory based on grainy videos of possible alien craft. No, this theory stems from what humans are doing.

Currently various technologies that will change the world are approaching production stages. Of these zero point energy and ultraconductors hold great promise for transforming the way we live. Early models could appear as early NEXT YEAR. Thats right, 2008.

With such technologies about to come to the forefront, tensions are sure to arise among the multi-billion dollar oil industry. Will they stand by idly as there industry is virtually destroyed? The answer is no. The massive military-industrial complex that controls the oil companies and alien technologies will be forced to act. This may come in the form of a hoaxed alien invasion, as suggested by multiple whistle blowers. Such an invasion would serve as a major distraction from these technologies, and their production would probably end in the near term.

Other factors are playing a role in why they will soon be revealed. Public opinion on alien visitation is reaching new highs. If things keep going the way they are, it is only a matter of time before more and more people start asking questions.

Other reasons are more basic. For example cameras are everywhere now and they are improving. This may explain the recent "wave" of sightings. More and more videos and pictures are coming to light every week. Also, an increasing number of scientists and researchers are giving credence to the idea of alien visitation. It wont be long before the scientific community realizes it can no longer deny that something very strange is going on above our heads.

There are other things too. France recently released thousands of documents pertaining to UFOs. Although minor, the media seems to be increasing its coverage of UFO related events. New and private firms are working on vehicle that would send tourists into space. Based on the amount of NASA UFO videos, it would seem likely that eventually one of these tourists will see something. Lets not forget other strange indicators such as the appearance of indigo children, or the mayan calendar and the astronomical alignment of the sun with the plain of the galaxy.

Everyday I see things that would suggest this IS going to happen. When do you think aliens will be revealed? I would predict that within the next two years something major is going down. This is IMMINENT.

Is the time for secession here?

It is obvious that there are insurmountable differences in certain areas of throughout the United States that will never be solved through acts of legislation. The states and their rights have become almost nonexistent in the face of Federal authority. The Constitution is all but ignored the fact that the states themselves are sovriegn and they have certain rights that the founding fathers ordained them with.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that Federal rule has an agenda to strip the citizen and the state they live in from any self governing authority. They will not stop until all fifty states are nothing more that a figurehead for revenue to fund their nation building kabal they have been so feverently following since the American civil war. Spilling American blood and resources to instill a US Federal clone government abroad with no authority of the states to object is treasonous under the original intent of the founding fathers.

The Messiahnic "We know what's right for all of you" rant that both parties have pursued for over 150 years at the expense of citizens without a real say will end in the dissolution of the right of a state to decide the fate of its' people. A Patriot is an invaluable resource that should not be squandered lightly and I think it is high time to reevaluate the relationship between the citizen and the Federal beast that is using the Constitution and States' rights to wipe their boots with.

"Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad says 15 British naval personnel captured in the Gulf will be freed.

He repeated allegations that the British sailors and marines "invaded" Iranian waters, but said they would be freed as a "gift" to Britain.

He made the announcement at a news conference, in which he also awarded medals to the commanders who captured the British personnel in the Gulf.

Follower's of Ishmael

Created by: Valhall on April 20, flags: 13, replies: 26

Was Cho's reference to Ishmael a reference to the "religion" that is building around Daniel Quinn's series of books that discuss the philosophy of the required revolutionary "correction" to the human species in order to save the world?

Read about Quinn's Book Ishmael here and ponder on the statements of the followers who have posted in his guestbook:

Check out the blog writings another Follower of Ishmael

(links removed, visit the thread for external references)

(Describes himself as "Civilization's Downfall. Servant of Secret Fire.")

Quinn's Ishmael discusses the problems of the "civilized" world we live in now as a system of Leavers and Takers. New words for the "haves" and the "have nots". The Leavers create the Takers by making them consumers - dependent on the crumbs left by the Leavers - and therefore slaves to the civilized society.

Quinn's Ishmael is taught in middle schools, high schools and colleges across the nation. As you can see in this list it is taught at Virginia Tech.

It would be interesting to know if it was also taught at Columbine.

Food for thought.

"Argentina has renewed its claim over the Falkland Islands on the 25th anniversary of invading them - and losing a subsequent war with Britain.

"The Malvinas are Argentine, they always were, they always will be," said Argentine Vice-President Daniel Scioli, using the Spanish name for the islands.

Last week Argentina unilaterally scrapped an oil and gas exploration treaty with the UK."(visit the link for the full news article)

Have you seen an Unidentified Flying Object?

Created by: antar on April 15, flags: 12, replies: 236

I was wondering how many people here on this board have actually seen an unidentified flying object? I have seen several in my lifetime, and it is interesting how some people have all the luck. Or is it luck? It is not easy to have sightings and not be able to prove it. Sometimes even seeing something unexplained can be debunked if you choose. With time memories fade, but interestingly, not with sightings. Once you have seen one you don't forget, even when most memories have faded the UFO experiences are remembered. At least that has been my experience and that of my family and friends. I am not talking about abduction on this post just sightings of unexplained or explained alien ships. I do not care to get into debate over it being a government test vehicle or alien technology. It does not matter, all answers are welcome provided the craft you have personally witnessed were beyond the current ability of our or any other military's capability. I will go more into detail of past and not so past experiences if this thread moves in an interesting direction. I have been personally telephoned for information in the past regarding "What I know" and so with that said, tell me what you have seen before I offer what I have declined to offer in the past.

Think Worst-Case Scenario: A UFO Hypothesis That's Truly Horrifying

Created by: Palasheea on April 11, flags: 12, replies: 68

A few evenings ago, I found a new video series posted on U-Tube entitled "UFO Hypothesis" - Peggy Kane (Vol. 1 and 2). I had never heard of her before but after googling up her name, I'm to find that there's a lot of material on the net about her.

I started watching the first part of this series and found that I could relate to everything that she was saying about the electronic voice phenomenon because I too have been an EVP recorder for several years now (especially over the past 3 yrs). So from the get go, I was hooked.

And like her, I eventually wanted to see if I could contact beings who claimed to be from other worlds.

I'm posting her first short video (each one is only a few minutes long) where she talks about some of those ET's she contacted via EVP where eventually she was to find out from them information about a Reptilian Agenda. From there she began to formulate her own ET Hypothesis based on her EVP contact information on this.

Here's what it says on her You Tube pages:

"Ms. Kane is now convinced that a reptilian ET race from Orion has taken control of this lower astral realm. Her hypothesis also suggests that the reptilian ET "gods" colonized our Earth long ago, and continue to use Earth humans as a slave race and food source."

(isit the thread to view linked videos)

Personally, I find her ET Hypothesis, if true -- horrifying to say the least and it's something that I, quite frankly, DON'T WANT TO BELIEVE. My mind just automatically jolts into neutral or denial mode when ever I think about what she's saying here because, just like David Ickes' material, it's just too 'over the top' for my little brain to wrap around.

But the problem is, I get these ITC images of what look like strange troll/gnome-like beings .. and other type beings. Some bear some resemblance to what some call Reptilians. Anyway, for now I've decided use John Keel's term for them and call them Ultra-terrestrials. (see image below)

(visit the thread to view linked images)

And in my more recent ITC experiments, I was to find out that there are some people out there, when I record a movie of them talking in a video on-line somewhere, on playback, I see these strange frightening etheric overlays of monster-like faces over the faces of those individuals I'm recording.

So what's going on here? I'm still trying to 'process' these images and what they are but I will say, that so far, I am not getting the impression that those 'beings' who are showing up in my ITC movies are evil or negative (except for those monstrous etheric face overlays I get when recording the faces of certain individuals shown somewhere in online videos's). Nor are my EVP messages from those who are calling themselves 'messengers' negative in any way either. So at this point in time, I'm thankful that I'm not getting the same kind of information that Peggy Kane is getting and I hope I never do.

All I can say is, for me to understand some of her conclusions inclusive within her ET hypothesis, I would have to listen to her EVP's of those voices in her recordings who are giving her information about the reptilian agenda to see if I'm hearing what she is in them.

Still I think it's interesting that Undo, who's the OP of that fascinating Stargate thread here in this forum, has reach some of her own tentative speculations on reptilians based on her research and is even going as far as saying that maybe there is some truth afterall in some of what David Icke has been saying all along. But I'm like Undo -- neither one of us really want to admit, let alone believe any of his material because it's just so DISTURBING.

Yet here we are, each immersed in our own intellectual endeavor to search for the truth where we are finding ourselves confronted face to face with information that for all practical purposes supports some of what Icke has been writing and lecturing about for many years now.

Anyway, like I said, I'm still trying to process those ITC images I get of strange alien-like beings. Others in the ITC community are getting them too. I don't know, but are we to find some answers to our questions about all of this by reading over (links removed, visit the thread for external references) Based on Undo's excellent research, the words of this scripture are certainly worth pondering over.
